A. R. Oster, Supt. eastern division, was up in his "Dino del Norte" looking over the Dawson line last week.

C. W. Houston, Train Master of the Dawson, spent Saturday and Sunday at Dawson, returning home on an extra Monday morning.

H. L. Simmons, Gen. Mgr. of the S. W., went east in his car "San Pedro."

Paymaster Averill arrived with the pay car on the 20th and caused the Dawson Ky. boys to wear a pleasant smile.

F. B. Loucks, Gen. Foreman of the Dawson, went to Dawson for a few days on Sunday's train.

John Welch, Roadmaster of the Dawson, is at Dawson superintending the changing of the yards at that point.

W. F. Buchanan, cashier of the Bank of Tucumcari, is feeding 150 head of cattle at his place northeast of town, on Kaffir Corn and Milo Maize grown on his own farm. There will be thousands of head of stock feed in Quay County this winter off the products of our farms. That means a great deal to the business interests of this locality.

J. M. Austin with his father came here about three weeks ago from southwest Texas, and settled south of Tucumcari, unfortunately cut the tendon above the heel of his right foot with a cane knife a few days ago. He is under the care of Dr. Klutz and the wound is beginning to heal nicely.

In Justice Court.

Monday, Candido Chaves was arraigned before Judge James M. Lawson under charge of the abduction of Virginia Analla. Virginia was a ward of Hon. M. Rudolph, Supt. of Schools of this County, who was here Monday from his home at Alamogito to prosecute the case. Atty. C. C. Davidson was counsel for the prosecution, and owing to the absence of an important witness secured a continuance for 30 days.

Settlers are rapidly coming into this locality for lands now, and in a few years much of the arable area will be under cultivation. Lands to be entered by homestead are becoming scarcer year by year, and land values are continually climbing upward. There was a family came in this week from Arkansas and took lands a few miles out of town.

We don't feel altogether in a strange land, as we have had a number of old acquaintances call on us since our arrival in your city. Among them, N. White and his sons, M. L. Oyler, Capt. J. P. C. Langston and his son, Ernest, Col. Theo. W. Heman, Mr. Smith, Prof. B. Stephenson, F. C. Matteson, Hon. Manuel C. de Baca, and others. Gentlemen you were welcome visitors, and we hope you will come again and often and bring your friends in with you. We want to become acquainted with them also.
